

TETRA Download Centre

The TETRA Download Centre (TDC) is a solution for distributing JAVA phone applications (midlets) and other content to TETRA terminals over the air. Using the TDC solution PMR operators and user organisations can efficiently deploy applications, application updates and content to subscribers in a cost-efficient, secure and controlled way.

Java applications and other downloadable content items (e.g. manuals etc.) are becoming available to TETRA users. This opens new possibilities for improving operational efficiency and user adaptation of data applications and similar functionality.

Mentura Group's TETRA Download Centre (TDC) is a solution for distribution of content over-the-air to TETRA terminals. This solution is especially tailored to PMR user organizations, and based on a proven mobile service platform.

Benefits:

- Easy management of Java applications and related meta-data. Applications are automatically published on the systems WWW and WAP portals (can be integrated to organisation's Intranet)
- Access to applications can be restricted to organisation blocks.
- Fast and controlled deployment of applications, new releases and updated content -> no need to take the terminals to a central location. The application can be pushed to the complete organisation with one mouse-click.
- Real-time information about terminals that have or have not downloaded the applications. Automatic reminders can be configured.
- The system selects the correct application binary for the downloading terminal (multi-vendor support for different binaries). Terminal support is upgraded by Mentura.
- The system can be shared between user organisations (each organisation can have their private sub-system on the same server).
